VOL. VI. NO. 123. GREENSBORO, N. C., TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1900. Price Five Cents

ADMIRAL SEYMOUR A CAPTIVE.

RELIEF COLUMN REACHED TIEN-TSIN

One Report Says That Capt. McCalla is With Seymour—Another Says Seymour and All the Ministers From Pekin are Twelve Miles From Tien-Tsin and are Hard Pressed—The Streets of Tien-Tsin are Littered With Foreign Men and Women, Including Americans and Japanese.

By Wire to the Telegram

Cheefoo, June 26.—Admiral Seymour has been captured. The Chinese overpowered his relief column. The foreign ministers have left Pekin under a guard of Chinese soldiers. Nobody knows where they have gone. These reports came from Japanese sources and are believed to be true.

MISSIONARIES GOING TO CHEEFOO.

Shanghai, June 26.—The priests, fathers Isoro and Aurlainer, have been murdered by the Boxers near Tien-Tsin. Most of the missionaries at Tien-Tsin have been brought to Cheefoo. Several missionaries from Pekin have been found at Tien-Tsin, having reached there before the railway line was broken.

TIEN-TSIN RELIEVED.

London, June 26—Kempff's announcement of the relief of Tien-Tsin is confirmed today at Hong Kong by a Shanghai bank. At the same time advices were received from Singapore saying that Tien-Tsin had been relieved.

MASSACRED PEOPLE LITTER STREETS.

Taku, June 26—An agent here of a foreign firm in Tien-Tsin has received reports, of the horrible condition of affairs at that place. The bodies of massacred men and women of every European nation, and of America and Japan litter the streets. The banks are looted and destroyed.

TO RESCUE SEYMOUR.

Chefoo, Jan. 26—The allied armies marching on Pekin will save Seymour and the ministers or avenge them.

SEYMOUR IN 12 MILES OF TIEN-TSIN.

Berlin, June 26.—According to a government dispatch, Admiral Seymour with the Ambassadors and Ministers of Pekin, are within 12 miles of Tien-Tsin and are hard pressed.

MCCALLA A PRISONER WITH SEYMOUR.

Shanghai, June 26.—A Japanese report says that Admiral Seymour is a prisoner. The same report says that Capt. McCalla, of the United States cruiser Newark, is a prisoner with Seymour.

KEMPFF SAYS TIEN-TSIN IS RELIEVED.

Washington, June 26. — Admiral Kempff cables, under date of yesterday, from Taku that the relief force reached Tien-Tsin on the 23d, and that the Pekin relief force is reported to be in ten miles of Tien-Tsin, surrounded by a force going to assist Tien-Tsin on the 24th.

THE LAST NEWS OF YESTERDAY.

London, June 26, 3:55 a. m.—The British cruiser Terrible has arrived at Che Fu from Taku, with the latest news which is as follows: "Eight hundred sikhs and 200 Welsh Fusiliers have effected a junction with the American, German and Russian forces which had been cut off by the Chinese, about 9 miles from Tien-Tsin. It was proposed to deliver an assault upon the Chinese forces at Tien-Tsin. Fusiliers have effeced a junction with forces united. It would seem that one relieving force, cut off, had been relieved by another. At any rate, it is apparently certain that the allies arrived in sufficient force, at Tien-Tsin Sunday to attack the besieging Chinese.

"Foreign official opinions here," says a dispatch from Shanghai, to The Daily Express, dated yesterday, "inclines to believe that the worst has happened to the legations at Pekin and to Admiral Seymour, as well. Even if the legations were safe on June 19, there is no guarantee that they are safe now. The situation in fact grows more and more gloomy. The entire absence of reliable news from the capital seems to justify the worst construction which can be put upon it. Bad news comes from Nanking, where the unrest is said to be growing hourly. Viceroy Liu Kin Yied has telegraphed the British authorities that he has ordered the five Chinese cruisers which have been lying off the harbor to proceed to Nanking."

MR. M'ALLISTER TO MR. CONE

In Behalf of the Dispensary Board the Former Makes a Proposition to Have a Committee Investigate Condition of Business and Report to the Meeting Thursday Night.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

The following communication was delivered to Mr. Cone on yesterday shortly after twelve o'clock noon and up to the hour of 4 o'clock this afternoon no reply had been received:

To Mr. Moses Cone:

Dear Sir—For the purpose of enlightening the discussion next Thursday night as to whether or not the Dispensary has injured business in Greensboro, and in order that the facts may be arrived at with some degree of definiteness, and that there may be no guessing, we respectfully propose that a committee of three be named, you to name one, we to name another and those two to name a third whose duty it shall be to proceed at once to visit the respective places of business of the business men of Greensboro and ascertain from them whether or not their business has increased or decreased during the twelve months since the Dispensary was established, over the preceding twelve months, and report in writing the result of their canvas to the citizen's meeting Thursday night. Such a committee would represent both sides of this question and its findings would have great weight in determining the issue.

This communication is addressed to you because the meeting referred to was called at your instance. In order that the committee may get to work at once a prompt reply will be appreciated.

Respectfully,

A. W. MCALISTER, Chairman
For Dispensary Board.

Greensboro, June 25th,

FROM HIGH POINT.

The Effect of the Speaking Last Night. Notes and Personals.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

High Point, June 26 —At the speaking last night things got too hot for some of the Republicans. You could see two, especially, who would twist and turn and make remarks to friends in their gang. But we took particular notice that they batted their eyes and kept their mouths shut when Mr. Kitchin challenged any of their gang to deny the truth of several facts he mentioned in regard to their rascality, etc. And after the speech was all over and the speaker was out of sight they took advantage of his absence to make several statements that were not believed only by one or two of their "kith and kin," who were standing around. But why waste words and time—"blood will tell."

Mr. M. J. Bouldin and wife, of Asheboro, are visiting the family of J. L. Sechrest, as is also Mrs. Rawlins, of Merry Oaks, Wake county.

Mr. Zink, an employee of the Myrtle Furniture Company, died last evening. Last week the deceased was standing near a belt in the shop when it jumped the pulley, striking him in the abdomen, causing paralysis of the bowels, from which he died. The remains will be carried by private conveyance to his former home at Midway, Davidson county.

Mrs. Charles Roberson, nee Miss Pearl Causey, is visiting friends here.

Mr. C. O. Overman, of Salisbury, was here last night.

Mr. L. C. Watson represented Lenoir here yesterday.

Messrs. W. I. Underwood, C. G. Wright, A. L. Brooks and J. W. Woodburn, of Greensboro, were here last night to hear Mr. Kitchin speak.

Fred Jones has returned from a delightful sojourn of two weeks in the eastern part of the State.

Advertisers.

C. C. Yates now has a sales room at 505 South Elm street, where he will serve the public with fresh bread, cakes, etc.

Henry Hunter, the hustling grocer, is making special low prices on vegetables of all kinds, including roasting ears.

A BIG FAIR IS NOW ASSURED.

AN ORGANIZATION PERFECTED.

The Central Carolina Fair Association Behind the Enterprise—Officers and Directors Elected—The First Fair Will be Held Next Fall—It Will be No Ordinary Exhibit of Bulls and Pumpkins, but an Up-to-Date, Modern Fair, With All the Midway Attractions.

A number of the gentlemen interested in the proposed fair met last night and formally organized the Central Carolina Fair Association. The following officers were elected:

President—J. Van Lindley.

First Vice-President—W. H. Osborn.

Second Vice-President—Ceasar Cone.

Third Vice-President—Gen. J. S. Carr.

Secretary—J. H. Walsh.

Assistant Secretary—Fred N. Taylor.

Board of Directors—Dr. J. T. J. Battle, J. E. Tomlinson, C. M. Vanstory, John A. Young, Fred N. Taylor, R. M. Rees and Garland Daniel.

An executive committee will be selected from the directors and other committees will be appointed to assist in the work of arranging for one of the greatest fairs ever held in North Carolina.

It was decided to purchase 35 acres of land along the railroad track, a short distance west of the corporation line. A committee went out today and looked over the grounds with a view to locating the race track and buildings. A more suitable location could not have been secured anywhere in the county. The property is right along the railroad, being on the south side, and can be easily reached from down town.

One of the best half-mile race tracks in the country will be built at once. The executive committee solicits bids from contractors for grading and surfacing the track. Any information bidders may desire may be had from Prof. J. M. Bandy, the association's civil engineer. Bids will be opened next Monday and the work of grading is expected to be begun immediately thereafter.

While no date for the fair has been set, it will probably be held some time in November, after the other fairs of this section are over. At that time it will be an easy matter to secure the most popular attractions going and the best horses on the turf.

This is to be no ordinary county fair, but an an up-to-date, thoroughly modern exhibit of everything interesting and attractive usually seen at the biggest fairs, gala weeks, etc. There is no doubt of the success of such an institution in Greensboro. The location is most excellent, and the men behind the enterprise are a sufficient gurantee of its stability and permanence.

MET A WARM RECEPTION.

A Negro, Seen Loitering Around a House Last Night, is Fired Upon.

A negro was noticed standing on the sidewalk in front of Mr. J. S. Hunter's house, on Pearson street, last night, but as it was supposed that he was waiting for some of the servants in the neighborhood, no attention was given him. Between 11 and 12 o'clock Miss Maude Hunter and a young lady friend, who were in a room upstairs, noticed the negro standing in the same place and called Mrs. Hunter's attention to him.

As Mrs. Hunter looked through the window the negro made a motion as if to climb over the fence, when Miss Maude, who was watching from upstairs, fired on him. The warning was sufficient and the intruder wasted no time in getting away.

The fact that Mr. Hunter was away from home caused the family to be badly frightened, though the indications are that they were able to take care of themselves. It is probable that the negro had taken advantage of Mr. Hunter's absence to commit robbery.

Parrish-Saunders.

Mr. Adolphus T. Parrish, of the Southern Railwy, and Miss Mazie P. Saunders were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Saunders, on Lindsay street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. Johnson, of West Washington Street Baptist church.

AMERICAN FORCES TO CHINA.

General Chaffee Will Sail on the first to Assume Command—The 9th Cavalry Sail from Manila Tomorrow.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Washington, June 26.—General McArthur cables that the 9th Infantry will sail tomorrow, well equipped with supplies and everything needful, for China.

General Chaffee at the War Department today received instructions to sail from San Francisco July first, with the sixth Cavalry and take command in China.

The Navy Department announces that the Brooklyn with Admiral Remey will take 300 marines from Manila to Taku. The gunboat Princeton has been ordered to Shanghai.

The Fourth batallion United States marines passed through Chicago last night for rush duty in the Orient. They sail from Francisco July first. Capt. Biddle said he expected orders in Japan to throw the command into fighting China. There are 280 men in the batallion recruited at Norfolk, New York and Washington.

Tammany and King's County Will Race to Kansas City.

By Wire to the Telegram.

New York, June 26—Tammany Hall and the King's county delegation to the Democratic Convention will race across the continent, in their trip to Kansas City. The King's county people have engaged trains over the Lockawanna road which are guaranteed to reach Kansas City two hours ahead of Tammany's train, which goes over the New York Central.

A Murderer Doing His Own Case.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Chicago, June 26.—Charles E. Lutz, being tried for the murder of his sister-in-law, Margaret Lutz, is conducting his own case. He himself was his only witness and did not crsss-examine the State's witnesses.

The Rough Rider Chestnut.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Quincy, Ill., June 26.—Governor Roosevelt, with the Rough Riders' campaign club, will speak here July the 5th.

WU SAYS WAIT AWHILE.

Says That We Ought to Hold Up Till Li Hung Chang Has a Chance.

Washington, June 25—The chief development today in the Chinese situation was the effort of the Chinese minister, Wu Ting Fang, to secure an armistice in the operation of American troops until Li Hung Chang could reach Pekin and bring about a cessation of the disorder. The proposition is rather a novel one, and is based upon the representations of the Viceroys of the important provinces of the Yang Tse Kiang Valley, that they can maintain order without the aid of foreign troops, and that the presence of foreigners would act merely as an incentive to disorder. Minister Wu brought these representations to the attention of Secretary Hay, who consulted the President. The latter's decision, as subsequently conveyed to the minister, was that while the assurances of the Viceroys for continued quiet was fully appreciated, the United States could not bind itself not to send its forces to points where disorder actually existed and where the safety of our officials and citizens was endangered. Thechnically speaking, in the absence of a state of war, this was not a propsition of armistice, but high government officials said it amounted practically to an offer of armistice, and the refusal on the part of the United States to make the arrangement.

A Suggestion for the Meeting Thursday Night.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

There was published in your columns last Saturday a petition containing the names of several business firms stating that the Dispensary had been detrimental to the business of Greensboro. We suggest that when these same firms go into the meeting which has been called at the instance of Mr. Moses Cone for Thursday night, they go prepared to show approximately how much their own business has fallen off in the last twelve months. Let the figures be placed in evidence Thursday night and let that meeting mean something and result in something.

MANY CITIZENS.

Greensboro, June 26.

"I'LL TAKE SOME STOCK."

A Business Man Says a Large Number of Men Can be Found to Put Small Amounts in a Trunk Factory.

On his way to his place of business this morning one of Greensboro's live business men dropped into the Telegram office to speak of the suggestion in yesterday's Telegram regarding a trunk factory for Greensboro.

"I'm always ready," he said, "to take a $100 stock in any small industry that is suggested. Enough men could probably be found to start a factory by taking small amounts, which they could invest without missing, yet which, when all of it is put together in the creation of small industries, produces a great effect."

That is the proper way to talk. It is the spirit that builds towns. Let our people think of it. "I'll take some stock" is a good phrase to use whenever any enterprise is suggested.

BURNED TO DEATH.

An Explosion of Kerosene Oil Ignited the Clothing of a Little Girl, Causing a Horrible Death.

A horrible accident occurred yesterday evening at the home of Mr. Silas M. Bolden, on East street, as a result of which a life was lost and a family cast into the darkest gloom.

Kerosene oil was being used to kindle a fire in a stove, when an explosion occurred which ignited the clothing of the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bolden, burning her body in a most frightful manner. The suffering of the little girl was intense for a few hours, when it was relieved by death. A physician and friends and loved ones did everything possible for the relief of the sufferer.

The little girl was 10 or 11 years old. She was a faithful member of the Westminster Presbyterian Sunday school.

A BOLD WOULD-BE ROBBER.

An Unknown Negro Enters the Home of Mrs. Apple After Daylight.

An unknown negro made a bold attempt at robbery at the home of Mrs. Emma Apple, on East Market street, early this morning. Mrs. Apple was preparing for breakfast and had gone to the well for a bucket of water. Upon her return she was horrified to find a negro man alone in the sitting room, ransacking a bureau drawer. He had gone in through a rear door, which had been left open, and did not appear in the least frightened or disconcerted when Mrs Apple appeared.

After talking with her for a moment or two, the negro coolly walked out of the room, and unlocking the front door, disappeared up the street.

The police officers were notified and are looking for the bold negro.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEAD.

Ab. Alston Fires a Bullet Into the Head of a Female Companion.

In a row between some negroes in Duplin last night Lou Carr was shot and seriously wounded by Ab. Alston. The bullet was fired from a revolver, entering the woman's head through the right temple. The wound is very dangerous and may result in death.

After firing the shot Alston disappeared, and all efforts of the officers to locate him have proved unavailing. Alston is regarded as a bad negro and has been in trouble before. At the time he was under a sentence of the Police Court.

Officer Whittington today arrested Noel Mendenhall, who is said to have furnished the pistol.

Elks Will Organize Tomorrow Night.

The Greensboro lodge of Elks will be formally instituted tomorrow night. The occasion is looked forward to as one of great pleasuse. Visiting Elks to the number of 75 or 100 will be present and add to the festivity of the occasion. A large number will come from Winston and Danville, each party being accompanied by a band. Elks from Wilmington will also be present.

Guessing the Census.

Shove in your guess on the population of Greensboro, if you want a chance before the time expires. The guesses that are coming in are interesting. They range all the way from about 9,000, the lowest, to about 20,000, the highest so far.

IN WRECK, FLOOD AND FLAME.

STORY OF THE AWFUL WRECK.

So Far the Victims of Saturday Night's Disaster on the Southern Below Atlanta Number About 40--Not One Outside of the Pullman Car Escaped to Tell the Tale--The Struggle of Those Who Were Saved.

The terrible wreck on the Southern below Atlanta, at McDonough, last Saturday night, is even more horrifying than at first was supposed. The number of dead thus far discovered is 40. The cause of the disaster was a washout. The recent continued rains had been feared and the track was then being patrolled. Only a short while before the wreck the guard had passed along and thought the track safe. A section of track nearly 100 feet in length was washed out. Into this the swiftly moving train dashed.

There was not a note of warning. The storm was still raging and all the car windows were closed. The passengers, secure as they thought, and sheltered comfortably from the inclement weather, went to death without an instant's warning. The train, consisting of a baggage car, second-class coach, first-class coach and a Pullman sleeper, was knocked into kindling wood by the fall. The wreck caught fire a few minutes after the fall and all the coaches were burned except the Pullman car.

Every person on the train except the occupants of the Pullman car perished in the disaster. There was no escape, as the heavy pullman car weighed down the others and the few alive in the sleeper were unable to render assistance to their fellow passengers.

For a brief time there was silence. Then the occupants of the Pullman car recovered from their bewilderment and after hard work managed to get out of their car and found themselves on the track in the pouring rain. The extent of the catastrophe was quickly apparent.

Flames were already coming from that part of the wreckage not covered by the water.

As the wreck began to go to pieces under the destructive work of both fire and flood human bodies floated out from the mass and were carried down stream by the swift current.

The storm did not abate in fury. Flashes of lightning added to the steady glow of the burning train and lit up the scene with fearful distinctness.

Flagman Quinlan, who was one of the first to get out, at once started for the nearest telegraph station. Making his way as rapidly as possible in the face of the blinding storm, he stumbled into the office at McDonough and after telling the night operator of the wreck, fell fainting to the floor. Word was quickly sent to both Atlanta and Macon, but no assistance was to be had except from the former city, as the interrupted track prevented the arrival of any train from Macon.

Nearly the entire male population of McDonough went to the scene to render assistance, but little could be done by the rescuers, as the fire kept them at a distanee. At daylight the bodies that had floated from the gorge were gathered up. One body was found a mile from the wreck and many were found along its banks.

A wrecking train was started out from Atlanta at midnight, but owing to the burning wreckage nothing could be done until morning. A special train at 6 o'clock took doctors, ministers, railroad officials and helpers to the scene, but nothing could be done save to gather up the bodies.

As the dead were found they were removed to McDonough. There are two undertakers there. Both establishments were soon full of the mangled remains of the passengers. Some of the bodies were terribly burned while others were crushed beyond recognition. The only means of identification in the majority of the cases were letters and papers in the pockets of the victims.

A DRUMMER'S EYPERIENCE.

Jesse L. Rohr, a traveling salesman of Baltimore, one of those rescued, was seen at the Kimball House at night says a press dispatch. He had this to say of his experience last night:

"I was in the Pullman with the others who escaped with their lives, when the wreck occurred. There was not an instant's warning. We heard suddenly an indistinct crash and the next instant felt our car pitch forward and drop. The forward end of the car filled with water at once and the lights went out. We heard the roar of rushing waters and knew we were in a stream of some kind. We got down on all four and felt and crawled our way to the top of the car and then out. The car was hanging by its rear trucks to the stone abutment of the culvert and swayed by the motion of the water, swung to and fro like a great pendulum. It was pitch dark and the rain was coming down in torrents. Peering into the breach in the track we could see a confused mass of broken cars already beginning to burn. What impressed me was the fact that not a single call for help was heard. Those in the forward coaches must have met death instantly. The wreckage was on fire when we reached the top of our car and lit up the scene brightly. Looking down toward the middle of our car, I saw the head and shoulders of a woman and soon heard her cry, 'Save us, we are alive.' But we could do nothing for her then as there was no rope to be had and we were afraid the car would swing from its position.

"Then came the struggle to get to the track above. We were many feet from the level of the roadbed. Great chuncks of earth, loosened by the rain, came falling down on us, and we were nearly buried two or three times. We feared, too, that the stone abutment, weakened in its position by the giving away of the earth, would loosen and crash in upon us. We took hold of the roots and several times as we neared the top of the bank, they pulled out and sent us tumbling back on the car.

Once Mr. Flynn, who was one of our little party, got within grasping distance of the top. Suddenly, to our horror, he lost his hold and down he came. He did not stop at the car this time, however, but went on into the river and was carried away by the terrific rush of waters. I was delighted at daybreak, however, to see him walk up to our party in McDonough and tell us that he had managed to catch a tree after a ride of a mile or more in the water.

"Flagman Quinlan worked like the bero that he is. He finally got to the top and ran as fast as he could to a farm house nearby and came with a rope. It was too short, however, and he had to make a trip again to another house. Finally he got plenty of rope and then we pulled the two ladies out of the forward end of the coach and all were soon on top of the ground."

When asked how wide the washout was, Mr. Rohr said: "I can't tell you accurately, to me it seemed the width of the Mississippi river, and the roar of the flames and water was something calculated to unstring any man."

W. N. HINTON, Mgr.

CLAUDE KITCHIN IN HIGH POINT.

STRONG PLEA FOR THE AMENDMENT

There Should be no Division Among White Men--The Issue Should be Regarded From the Standpoint of an Honest Man and a Patriotic Citizen--Horrors of Negro Rule Forcibly Depicted--Eloquent Appeal for a Coming Together of All White Men--The Hypocrisy of the Pretended Friendship of Republicans for the Poor White Man.

Hon. Claude Kitchin made a most eloquent and forceful speech—a vote-winning speech—in High Point last night. It was delivered in as sincere and truthful a manner as the cordial and enthusiastic welcome extended this young champion of Democracy by the good people of our neighbor city. Mr. Kitchin was met at the station by a number of prominent Democrats, and the High Point Band, which greeted the next Congressman from the Second District with strains of stirring music.

The speaking was advertised to take place in the opera house, but on account of the heat and the presence of a crowd in excess of the seating capacity of the hall the meeting was adjourned to the public square downstairs. The crowd stood around the speaker and heard him with patience and earnestness for an hour and a half, while he discussed in a dispassionate but plain manner the one predominating and all-important issue before the people of North Carolina.

Mr. Kitchin was introduced in a happy manner by Mr. A. J. Dodamead.

In his opening remarks Mr. Kitchin said there should be no difference of opinion among the white men of North Carolina in this campaign; the one issue before the people should not be looked at from the standpoint of a Democrat, a Republican or a Populist, but from the standpoint of a man, remembering that it is grander and nobler to be an honest and patriotic man than a member of any political party. He expressed the hope that every white man in North Carolina might conquer prejudice and face the issue with a desire only for the good of his State. "The success of this issue," he declared, "is pregnant with blessings and honor to North Carolina, while its defeat is pregnant with dishonor and disaster to our State."

Reference was made to the charge often made by Republicans to the effect that if it were not for the negro in North Carolina the Democratic party would never get into power again. Mr. Kitchin said if there was no race issue in North Carolina the Democratic party would have a right to expect the people to restore it to power and drive from the State forever fusionism, Butlerism and Russellism, with their attendant train of evils. In substantiation of this assertion, he referred to the extravagance and incompetence of the fusion administration, when the fusionists had denounced the Democrats for these very things and gone into office under a solemn promise of retrenchment and reform along all lines of government. Instead of reducing expenditures and decreasing the number of offices, the four years of fusion government cost the State more than $450,000 in excess of the expenditures during the preceding four years of Democratic administration, while the number of offices was increased more than 500, many of them filled by negroes. Instead of reducing the salaries of public officials, they were increased more than $52,000.

During twenty years of Democratic administration there was only one scandal, and the author of that was a lifelong Republican whom the Democrats had retained as superintendent of the insane asylum at Raleigh on account of his alleged fitness for the position. "You can hold up your hands," said Mr. Kitchin, "and God has not given you fingers enough to count the scandals of the four years of fusion rule. There is John R. Hancock, and John R. Smith, and Kirby Smith, and the public printing scandal, the charges of legislative bribery, and numerous other instances of corruption and peculation, in the Agricultural Department, in the penitentiary and elsewhere."

In the summing up of the many evils and disgraces that have befallen North Carolina, the Fred. Douglas Legislature was not neglected, the speaker saying the action of the General Assembly in adjourning in memory of the dead negro, when it refused to so honor the memory of Robert E. Lee, should eternally damn it in the mind of every Southern white man. Continuing, Mr. Kitchin sa'd:

"In my county, Halifax, in 1896, 800 white men left the Democratic party and allied themselves with the negroes, and for the first time in 15 years the Democracy went down in defeat and the white people were placed under the oppressive heel of the ignorant and insolent negroes. The Republican party gave us in the county of Halifax 12 negro postmasters, (two or three of these are now serving terms in the penitentiary for embezzlement) 29 negro magistrates, 8 negro constables, negro school committeemen, negro commissioners, negro deputy sheriffs, a negro jailer and 2 negro representatives in the Legislature Three-fourths of the jurors were negroes, and insolence and crime stalked abroad. According to the records of the solicitor, crime increased during the four years more than 30 per cent. * * * During the four years of fusionism there were nearly twice as many rapes and criminal assaults by negro brutes upon white women as during the preceeding 20 years of Democratic rule. Remember that when you go to the polls and vote against the Democratic ticket and measures, you vote the same ticket these negro rapists would vote were they back in this life. When you do that you vote the ticket the negro editor, Manly, the negro Congressman, George White, the negro member of the Legislature, Jim Young, and the negro State Senator, Lee Person, say you should vote. Go home and ask your wife and children that if, in voting according to the dictation of these negroes, you will vote for the interests of your loved ones.

"The Republicans charge that the amendment will disfranchise the poor and ignorant white man. Who is the friend of the poor and ignorant white man? I challenge any Republican in North Carolina to show that his party has not always been the enemy of the poor and ignorant white man. In order to pass the fifteenth amendment to the Federal constitution, conferring the elective franchise upon the former slaves, the Republican party disfranchised 22,000 Confederate soldiers in North Carolina. Thus in the very beginning they showed their contempt for the poor white man." Coming down a little nearer to the present time, Mr. Kitchin cited the Washington Post, the McKinley organ so frequently quoted by Butler and Pritchard in their tirades against the amendment, which said in its issue of February 10th, 1899, that "the proposed amendment to the constitution of North Carolina is a damnable iniquity, because it disfranchises the negroes and allows all white men to continue voting." The Asheville Register, Pritchard's personal organ, quoted the editorial and added: "As between an ignorant white man and an ignorant negro, the ignorant negro is the least offensive."

"If the Republicans have so much love for the poor white man," continued the speaker, "let them go down into Halifax, and Warren, and Edgecombe, and Bertie, and Craven and other eastern counties in the black belt and tell why they kicked hundreds of poor white men out of office and put in their places hundreds of negroes. Let them go all over the State and tell why, during four years, they kicked over 1,200 white men out of office and replaced them with negroes. Yes, go tell the poor white man how much you love him!

"Who says the amendment will disfranchise a single white man in North Carolina? Those who hold office by the vote of the negroes or hope to. Examine the record of the men who say the amendment will disfranchise any white man."

Mr. Kitchin explained the amendment in a clear and lucid manner, dwelling specially on the educational test, which he showed clearly could keep no white man from voting. He declared the educational section to be the genius of the amendment, and said it should be the hope and inspiration of every white boy in North Carolina. The Republican party, he said, was a friend to ignorance and hated intelligence, therefore it was quite naturally opposed to the amendment.

"The amendment will be such a stimulus to education," continued the speaker, "that no white boy coming of age after 1908 need be unable to read and write. We will put it into the constitution and thereby commit the State to a broader educational policy."

In conclusion, Mr. Kitchin said: "We of the East have made up our minds and sworn that the conditions of negro rule shall never be repeated; the control of affairs shall never again be placed in the hands of the negroes and their white allies. There are two ways of settling this matter: One is by force and the other is by law. God grant that the people of North Carolina may find the latter way and walk down the path of peace in the settlement of this question."

COLOR IN FLAGS.

Red Predominates Largely In the Standards of the Chief Nations.

Though the policy of military authorities in using less glaring colors in uniforms has been very marked of late years, red remains the most popular color for national standards.

Of 25 countries, 19 have flags with red in them, the list including Great Britain, United States, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Spain, Denmark, Belgium, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Mexico, Chili, Portugal, Venezuela and Cuba.

The countries which have blue as an element of their flags are Great Britain, United States, Russia, France, Holland, Ecuador, Sweden, Chile, Venezuela, Portugal and Cuba.

Three countries have black as one of the elements of their flags—Germany, Belgium and China, but Germany is the only one of the three that has black and white together.

There are six countries which have green as a color Ireland, Brazil (the flag of which is green chiefly), Mexico, Egypt, Italy and Persia.

Nine countries have flags in which the color is partly of yellow. These countries are Austria, Spain, Belgium, Egypt, Sweden, China, Persia, Brazil and Venezuela.

Countries with flags partly white are the United States, France, Germany, Russia, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Turkey, Persia, Japan, Mexico, Holland, Denmark, Portugal, Cuba and Chile.

There is no white in the national standard of England, but the British naval flag has a white background.

The flag of Ecuador is nearer white than any other country, being made up of two parallel white columns between which is a column of blue, upon which are white stars.

CANCER IS NOT INCURABLE

Time was when Cancer was considered as incurable as leprosy. Physicians and friends could give little relief or encouragement to one afflicted with this terrible disease. Even now doctors know of no remedy for this fearful malady; while admitting it to be a blood disease, they still insist that there is no hope outside of a surgical operation, and advise you to have the Cancer cut out, but at the same time cannot assure you that it will not return. You may cut or draw out the sore, but another will come in its place, for the disease is in the blood—is deep-seated and destructive, and beyond the reach of the surgeon's knife or caustic, flesh-destroying plasters. The blood must be purified and strengthened, the system relieved of all poisonous, effete matter before the Cancer sore will heal.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can overcome this powerful and contaminating poison and force it out of the blood. It builds up and invigorates the old, and supplies new, rich, life-giving blood. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy; no mineral can be found in it; the roots and herbs from which it is made contain powerful purifying properties that act directly upon the blood system and make a safe and permanent cure of Cancer. It has cured thousands, why not you?

Cancer is not always inherited; your family may be free from any taint, yet your blood may become so polluted that a severe and stubborn form of the disease may develop from a sore or ulcer on your tongue or other part of your body; a slight bruise or hurt, a little pimple on the eyelid, lip or nose, a small lump on the jaw or breast, a harmless looking wart or mole, and other causes so insignificant as to attract little or no attention. If you have an obstinate sore, don't rely upon salves or ointments to cure it—begin with S. S. S. at once; it will cleanse your blood and prevent the formation of cancerous cells.

Impure Blood Invites Disease.

Mrs. R. Shirer, La Plata, Mo., writes: "A small pimple came on my jaw about one inch below the ear on the left side of my face. At first it gave me no trouble, and I did not think it was anything serious until the jaw began to swell and became much inflamed. At the same time the sore began to spread and eat into the flesh, and gave me intense pain. I tried everything I could hear of, but nothing did me any good. I then began the use of S. S. S., and after taking several bottles the Cancer healed, and there is now no sign of the disease. This was two years ago, and I am still enjoying perfect health."

MONDAY, JUNE 25, 1900.

IN CHINA.

The situation in China appears to grow worse rather than better. For over fifteen days Pekin, the Chinese capital, has been closed to the outside world, and only vague rumor filters through. All this time not a word has come from the American minister, Mr. Conger, there. One day we have news that everything has been lost by the foreigners cooped up there, and at another time comes a rumor that all is safe. The situation at Tien-Tsin is scarcely less deplorable. For days the Chinese have had guns mounted on the walls and have kept up an incessant bombardment of the foreign quarters.

At Tien-Tsin there are now 3,000 international troops. Some days ago 2,000 troops, commanded by Admiral Seymour, left Tien-Tsin for the relief of Pekin, making the attempt to reach there by an 80-mile march overland. Immediately after they left Tien-Tsin was itself invested, the Chinese apparently wishing to take advantage of this weakening of the garrison. This put Admiral Seymour and his column between the two hostile bands that invested Tien-Tsin and Pekin, and nothing has since been heard of him, though it is probable that he has been able to reach Pekin, but without yet effecting the relief of the foreigners.

Tien-Tsin, instead of being a relief base for Pekin, has become an object for relief itself. If the reader will keep in mind the positions of Taku, Tien-Tsin and Pekin, an easier understanding of the situation will be possible. Taku is on the gulf. Here the foreign warships have been assembled for a long time. Up the Pei-Ho river some 40 miles is Tien-Tsin, at the head of deep water navigation, while some 60 miles further up is Pekin. Thus the line of progress of the foreign troops is from Taku to Tien-Tsin, and then to Pekin. A London dispatch of yesterday said that the foreign admirals at Taku had blown up all the forts which they had captured and were ready at a moment's notice to send all available forces to Tien-Tsin.

In all the fighting, so far as we are able to see, it is impossible to distinguish the Chinese Imperial troops from the Boxers; in fact, so far as any good they have done is concerned, the former may as well not have existed. A report Saturday said that the Imperial troops were the ones firing on the foreign soldiers at Tien-Tsin.

There are indications that the trouble is spreading. It is hard to guess what will happen if it does. The Emperor is said to have remarked that while 10,000 foreign troops might conquer China, 1,000,000 could not keep her in subjugation. The power of the empire for silent resistance is unbounded, and were the insurrection to break out all over the vast country, it would simply be out of the question for the powers to do anything away from the coast.

Since the above paragraphs were written the reports of today, as they appear elsewhere, indicate that Tien-Tsin has been reached by foreign troops, and that something very serious has happened to Admiral Seymour, though just what that something is, is hard to tell.

The International Religious Liberty Association, 750 Morrow Building, Chicago, Ill., has our thanks for a generous attempt to clear up our benighted ideas on the subject of Sunday observance. The specific vehicle for our salvation is a tract entitled "Is Religious Liberty Imperiled by Sunday Laws?" In this pamphlet, which we have not yet found time to read, we find the following paragraph blue marked:

Time is a thing of value. Indeed, it has been said that "time is money" Thus our modern Sunday laws, equally with colonial laws for the support of religion, levy upon the individual a tax for the maintenance of a religious institution. Formerly the individual was required to devote a portion of his time in days or hours to the services of religion, and also an additional portion of his time, which by his thrift and industry had been crystallized into dollars and cents. Now that portion of his time that has been thus crystallized is held to be inviolate; but all men, no matter what their religious beliefs, are still required to place upon the altar of the statue-intrenched creed, one-seventh part of their time, not as a voluntary offering which they cheerfully give to religion, but as a tribute exacted by civil law, under penalty.

Really we are grateful to the Association for its interest, but we shall go on believing that the State must establish a Sunday by law, or we shall not have any.

The Republican and Populist papers are not now using any milder terms in referring to Democrats than ruffians, thugs, thieves, robbers, liars, perjurers and choice kindred ones. The marketable Asheville Gazette even goes so far as to say that it is "impossible to fight them openly and still preserve the attitude of behavior that decency should require of every gentleman." Now isn't that fine? We are sorry that these poor, innocent revenue officers, marketable newspapers, and negro politicians, are forced to depart from their usual gentlemanly demeanor to fight the party composed of the mass of white people, having in its ranks, too, 95 per cent. of the preachers and teachers of the State.

McKinley is not the first President of this age to be nominated practically by acclamation, but during his four years in the White House there has arisen no anti-administration party; nothing of that kind has been seriously attempted or so far as the politically initiated confess, had it been considered—New York Sun.

"I'll take some stock" is a pretty good motto for our business people to adopt regarding new industries, large or small.

WANTED HER PER CAPITA.

The Philadelphia Woman Would Start off to North Carolina.

Philadelphia Record.

"Am I a Per Capita?" asked Mrs. Buggins, on reading some of the financial literature scattered around the National Convention seats. "Yes," replied Mr. Buggins, after looking at the map of the United States, on which the banking interest of each State was delineated in figures per capita. "Then," remarked Mrs. Buggins, "I ought to have $111.39 in bank. Which bank is it? Tell me quick, for I want to draw the money and take a summer trip." Mr. Buggins tried to explain that the statement was merely a proposition of proportion showing how much money there was in banks in various States, and pointed to North Carolina, where banking interest amounts to only $29 per head. "I don't believe it," said Mrs. Buggins. "If they only have $29 a head in North Carolina how do they keep up all their summer resorts? What do the the people live on?" I suppose they live on the last man that comes," replied Mr. Buggins. "Is that so?" asked Mrs. Buggins. "Then let us start right off, so we won't be the last arrivals and have to support the rest of the sojourners. You pay me that $111 that is my share and you may keep the thirty-nine cents." "Women never do understand financial matters." her husband growled; "but it's better to give in to them than try to explain.

ONE CONUNDRUM

Was All the Club Was Able to Handle. Before It Died.

They had started a Conundrum Club and every one was expected to come prepared with a number of good ones.

"I've got one," Anderson said.

"What is it?" queried the poet.

"When is an apple pie?" He stopped, and everyone looked at him but said nothing.

"Well," asked a man across the room, "go on. What did you stop there for?"

"Go on? Where? What for? he asked.

"Why, go on with your conundrum. When is an apple pie what?"

"When is an apple pie?"

"There isn't any sense in that," put in another fellow. "What's the rest of it?"

"There isn't any rest," persisted Anderson. "When is an apple pie?"

"When is an apple pie what?" yelled the others.

"Who said any apple pie what?"

"You did."

"I didn't. I didn't say anything about an apple pie."

"You did."

"I didn't."

"You did."

"I didn't."

And then the whole assembly sat on Anderson, and when the police came in and rescued him it took half an hour to explain that an apple was pie when it was closed up with sugar and crust and things, like the pastry. It smashed up the club though, and the conundrum's usefulness is that far established.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Did Well.

A thrifty Irish woman who came to America a widow with five small children and has raised them all and given them a common school education by her own hard work was extremely anxious that her eldest boy should marry a girl "with a portion," as she called it, and was correspondingly angry the other day when she learned that he had wedded a "Salvation lassie." The first time the son called to see her after the wedding, which he had kept secret from her, he did not bring the bride, fearing that her reception would not be a pleasant one. His old mother scolded him for not marrying at least the daughter of a saloon keeper or an alderman. "Mother," replied the bridegroom, meekly, "I have done better nor that. I have married a daughter of the Lord." "Huh!" snorted the old woman with a ready tongue. "I'm thinkin' it'll be a long time before ye set eyes on yer father-in-law!"—N. Y. Tribune.

Just the Thing.

A SHREWD NEWSBOY.

He Carries a Side Line That Pays a Dividend.

There is a boy in Philadelphia who some day is going to be a millionaire. He is only a newsboy now, and sells papers every afternoon at one of the railroad stations, but when he cannot manage to make a sale he exercises his wits and the result is generally sure.

The Saunterer has often noticed this particular lad and after purchasing a paper one afternoon last week stood near by in the hope of seeing something interesting. He had not long to wait.

A young man was coming down the steps that lead from the train floor to the street. He was dressed in a frock coat and silk hat and moved slowly as if preoccupied. One urchin tackled him when he was half way down with a "Pos'crip," and the young man shook his head. Then the Saunterer's young friend saw him.

Stepping up to the man the youngster halted him and said, with the politeness of a Chesterfield: "Beg yer pardon, mister, but dey's somethin' on yer coat. Want me to take it off?"

The young man stood while the boy passed his hand over the back of the coat and brought to view three or four long strands of golden hair. The look of confusion and apparent guilt on the face of the man was worth seeing. He hastily ran his hand into his pocket, pulled out a quarter and tendered it to the boy and fairly ran the rest of the way to the street.

The boy stood chuckling. "He's dead easy," he remarked. "I got dem from my sister," and he pulled out a handful more from his pocket and showed it to the Saunterer. "You see everything comes in handy in dis line," and he went back to his business of selling the wary and preying upon the unsuspecting.—Exchange.

Japanese Spaniels.

Over in Japan where the people are fond of everything in miniature, the smallest breed of dogs in the world has its home. They belong to the family of spaniels, and are black and white or yellow and white in color, and the smaller they are the more money they will bring. A pup of one year weighing five pounds is worth $200. If the breeder is fortunate enough to raise a spaniel weighing only three pounds or less he can get almost any price he wants for it. Sales have been made to the sum of $500. One of these queer little dogs can easily lie in a man's hand or find a comfortable nook for sleeping in a bootleg. They are very delicate and tender, and they have to be watched and cared for like a baby. If given proper attention they will sometimes live to the age of 10 years.

DEATH STOOD BESIDE THE ALTAR

Mrs. Aaron Drucker, Who Was Married June 12th, Died Yesterday—"As Soon as I Get Well I Am Going to Put on My Wedding Dress."

Charlotte News,

Mrs. Rosa Baumgarten Drucker, wife of Mr. Aaron Drucker, died this morning at 2:30 at St. Peter's Hospital.

Never has a sadder death been recorded in this city. Twelve days ago a wedding! today, a grave.

June 12th was Miss Baumgarten's wedding day. The evening before, she was taken alarmingly ill and it was thought would die before the dawn of her wedding day. As sadly recorded in the marriage notice, she was too ill to leave her bed and the ceremony was performed at the bedside. Who of the sad company present will ever forget the scene? The pale face on the pillow; the white hand that rested in the lover's to receive the wedding ring; the sad-faced groom and parents!

Everything was in readiness for an elaborate wedding and entertainment. The bride insisted that the guests should enjoy the supper and evening the same as if she were well and with them. They tried to do so, but the gaiety was forced. Borne in upon every soul present, was the feeling that the shadow of a tragedy had crossed the threshold. Unseen by mortal eye was the "Unwelcome Guest"—death—who stood by the bedside, separating the lovers who had loved each other for 15 years. As the young couple said the words: "Until Death Do Us Part," an unconscious shudder passed through the company of witnesses to the bridal scene.

After the ceremony, and the bride was receiving congratulations and hearty good wishes for her recovery, she said to several: "As soon as I get well, I am going to put on my wedding dress, and every one of you must come down and spend the evening with me. It is so pretty, and I made the lace for it all myself." The elegant gown was then lying on the bed in the adjoining room. Alas! it lies there still—never to be worn; never to be touched!

Mrs. Drucker's illness continued serious, and the doctors after several consultations, said that an operation was the only chance of saving her life. She was very much opposed to it, saying that she knew she was going to die anyway. She made every arrangement in regard to her death, telling her husband and parents what disposition to make of her bridal presents and other effects. Her wedding ring, she said, was not to be buried with her; it was to be taken off her finger by her husband, who was always to wear it.

She was taken to the hospital Thursday night, and operated on about 1:30 that night. Her husband and relatives have been at her bedside constantly. All hope of saving her life was given up Saturday evening when blood poisoning set in. The physicians prepared the grief stricken husband, parents and sister for the worst, that night. Yesterday the stupor preceding death set in, and at 2:30 this morning the spirit of this noble young woman—a bride of twelve days—passed into the great beyond.

Dangers of Illuminating Gas.

Numerous accidents occur annually in the use of gas for lighting, cooking, or heating, through either carelessness or ignorance. The largest number of accidents, probably, occur from ignorant persons, either blowing out the gas or turning it off and subsequently turning the cock on sufficiently for the gas to escape unnoticed.

Many other accidents are the result of the bad practice of turning down a gas flame, particularly in a bedroom. This is always ill-advised, for such a turned down flame may be either blown out by a draught of air from an open window, or else it may be extinguished by the sudden variation or reduction in the pressure. When this happens in a small bedroom without ventilation, there is great danger of asphyxiation, particularly so if water gas is used. Much can be done to avert this danger by a proper arrangement of the gas piping in houses.

Another dangerous custom is to shut off the gas at the main service or at the gas-meter during the night, and numerous accidents, some of them fatal, have resulted from it. It is almost equally bad to turn off the gas at the meter during the day.—Cassier's.

POPE LEO'S SUCCESSOR.

Sketch of the Man Who May Follow Him.

THE ELECTION OF A POPE

A Most Impressive and Interesting Ceremonial Although the Choice Is Uncertain, It Will Probably Be An Italian Cardinal.

Pope Leo XIII. will be ninety years old on March 2. He himself contemplates with absolute calmness the end which cannot be long delayed, and has even thought of his successor.

The cable announced recently that when the Pope was performing the ceremony of opening the Holy Door at St. Peter's Cathedral, by which the Jubilee Year was begun, he remarked to those around him:

"I thank Divine Providence for granting me the grace of being able to celebrate this great function, and I wish for my successor grandeur and a long reign to the greater glory of God. My successor will be young, as compared with my own age, and will have time to see many glories of the Papacy and the Church."

It is further stated that His Holiness clearly designated Cardinal Girolama Maria Gotti, Prefect of the Congregation of Indulgence and Sacred Relics, as his successor.

That Cardinal Gotti is a leading candidate for election to the Papal throne is generally admitted, and the chief basis for this candidature rests upon the personal preference of Pope Leo himself..

Cardinal Gotti was born in Genoa March 29, 1834, and is now sixty-five years of age. When he was only sixteen years old this student of the Jesuit College entered the Cloister of St. Anne as a member of the order of the Barefooted Carmelites under the name of Hieronymus Marie. He distinguished himself as a student by the power of clear exposition in recitation and the depth of his learning. After graduation he taught, not only theology, but, by his own request, became an instructor of mathmetics in the Institute for Naval Cadets at Genoa. Many of his pupils now command the vessels of the Italian navy.

Unlike some of the Cardinals, he rejects all luxury, and while he wears the fine purple raiment prescribed by law for those of his office, he sleeps on a monk's bed in a cell in the Forum of Trajan.

The election of a Pope is perhaps the most impressive and interesting ceremonial that can take place in the world to-day.

The Roman ceremonial prescribes that as soon as the Pope is dead all the officials are to leave the palace except the Cardinal Camerlengo. As soon as he has declared the Pope to be dead the secretaries bring the ring of the Fisherman and the seal of the Pontiff to him and he breaks them with a hammer. The secretary of the Sacred College sends notices to all absent Cardinals, informing them of the death of the Pope, and without any formal summons they hasten to the election. On the morning of the eleventh day after the Pope's death the Cardinals gather in the Basilica of St. Peter and the Cardinal Dean there celebrates the Mass of the Holy Ghost. After this is finished, while the Veni Creator is being sung, they proceed to the Conclave in the Vatican Palace. The laws concerning the election are read to them, and the Cardinals promise under oath to observe them.

Once having entered the Conclave they cannot leave until after the election of the new Pope. If a Cardinal should become ill he cannot return, nor can he have any voice in the election. The windows of that part of the Vatican Palace set apart for the Conclave are walled up, and all doors leading to the Conclave are likewise closed except one, which is doubly locked, and only opened to permit a sick Cardinal to leave or one who comes late to enter. Food and whatever else may be necessary is introduced through a turning box, which is also doubly locked. Each Cardinal is assigned to a cell by lot, and over the cell is placed his coat-of-arms, covered with green serge, or with purple, if he has been created by the deceased Pontiff.

When some one of the candidates is elected his name is declared, the Junior Cardinal Deacon rings a bell and the master of ceremonies and the secretary of the Sacred College enter the chapel. The Cardinal Dean, with two others, approach the Cardinal elected and ask him if he accepts the Papacy. He asks the new Pope what name he intends to take and the secretary records it. Two Cardinal Deacons conduct the new Pontiff behind the high altar, where he puts on the Pontifical vestments. He is then placed before the high altar, where, seated in the chair of state, he receives the salutations of all the Cardinals.

Each one kisses his foot, his hand and his mouth, the Cardinal Camerlengo places on his finger the ring of the Fisherman, which the Pontiff then gives to the master of ceremonies to have his name engraved on it. Then the first Cardinal Deacon, preceded by the musicians and the choir singing "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus," goes to the balcony over the entrance to the palace to declare to the people the election of the Pontiff.

"Mr. Dooley" and "Molly Donahue."

"Mr. Dooley" happened in on the Donahues on Archey Road and immediately joined the family discussion as to whether Mr. Donahue should buy a piano for his daughter. "H'm," said Mr. Dooley. "I'm no musician, an' th' 'eight iv me enjyment is f'r to hear a German band, consistin' iv a pickle-oo an' a bass drum, playin' 'Listen to th' Mockin' Bur-rd.' But, as Mary here says, whin it comes to decidin' quistions iv etiket, I'm the boy to do it again'th' wurruld. F'r forty year I've ladled it out be th' pint an' quart to th' fash'nable society iv this ward, an' Dooley's etiket f'r man an' baist is known fr'm wan end iv th' counthry to th' other. An' I say this to ye, Malachi, that it's not on'y th' proper an' r le thing to have a pianny, but seein' that Tim Clancy, th' assistant foreman on th' North Side, an' Mortimer Casey, the assistant foreman at South Chicago, both has wan, it ain't anny sure thing that whin th' news gits out that ye're scrapin' along widout wan ye won't lose yer job. Get a pianny, Malachi, an' thank Heaven they didn't ask f'r a steam calliope."—Author of "Mr. Dooley," in the December Ladies' Home Journal.

Mr. Hobart's First Fee.

One of the neighbors told recently how the Vice-President made his first fee as a lawyer. He was employed to write the will of a well-known manufacturer of Paterson, who was wealthy. Asked for his fee, Mr. Hobart, the legal fledgling replied: "One hundred dollars." It was from this that he received a significant hint how to succeed as a lawyer. The manufacturer was well pleased with his attorney, and, turning to his desk, drew out a package of bank checks that had come in during the regular course of business. Taking up one for $800 he endorsed it and handed it to Mr. Hobart. "With this start in life," said the narrator of the story. "Mr. Hobart married the daughter of Socrates Tuttle, who has been his helpmate through all the years that have followed. Years afterward, Mr. Hobart learned that the granddaughter of his first client was about to be married, and that she had been reduced to financial straits. He sent to her his check for $150 to assist in purchasing her trousseau and took steps to provide other members of the family with employment.—Philadelphia North American.

Fable of the Child and Cat.

The Stray Cat was of that caudally-abbreviated class known as Bob-tailed.

Did the Precocious Child remember his mamma's latest Fad in Dress and say:

"Oh, look, Papa, that Kitty has its Riny-Day tail on?"

The Precocious Child cried because the Cat's Tail was too decidedly Roberted to be Pulled.

Moral: The Griefs of Childhood, like those of Later Years, often come because we get what is Technically termed "the Short End of It."

Beware the Joker.

"Ah! the dog catcher's got that poor old foxhound at last," remarked the dachshund over his bone.

"You don't say!" exclaimed the hungry setter.

"Yes. You see the dog catcher laid a trail of anise-seed right into the pound, and the old hound followed it."

"Ha! so he was scent-wise and pound foolish."

The dachshund thoughtlessly laughed and dropped his bone, which the setter promptly assimilated.—Philadelphia Press.

Nothing that has ever yet been produced in the way of summer footwear for men will begin to compare for comfort, coolness and durability with shoes made of tan vici kid. If you have never tried shoes made of this material, ask any man who has worn them and you will find him ehthusiastic in their praise. But it is possible to have too much of a good thing and we find ourselves overstocked with certain lines of tan vici shoes. So in order to reduce the surplus, we have cut some fifty pairs of the $3 50, $3.00 and $2.75 grades down to $2.48. You can see the samples of these in our north window the rest of this week and if you are going to need another pair of shoes this summer it will be worth your while to stop and take a look at these. BY THE FOOT.

But This One Was a Four Footed Beast.

Two or three newspaper men and a Congressman in Washington, who was a merchant in private life, were talking over some of the peculiarities of business methods.

"I remember on one occasion," said the Congressman, "having in stock a big lot of dry goods remnants that seemed to stick right by me in spite of all I could do to get rid of them. At last I advertised to sell them at so much a pound, and the curiosity of people to see if they couldn't get more at pound rates for their money than they could get at yard rates soon cleaned out the stock. At another time I sold a lot of side meat at so much a square foot taking the run of the side, and the customers who got bargains in the thick of the meat encouraged others who had the luck to get theirs out of the thin, so I evened up very nicely.

"That reminds me,' remarked one of the correspondents, "of a horse I sold once at so much a foot."

"How was that?" inquired the Congressman, somewhat puzzled. "How did you make your measurements? I can understand how you might sell him at so much a hand, and come out pretty well on it ne was a big fellow sixteen or seventeen hands high, but I don't see how you could get at him by the foot."

"That was easy enough. I simply sold him at so much a foot—$37.50."

"How much did you get for him?" and the Congressman got out his pencil.

"A hundred and fifty dollars."

The Congressman figured for about the sixteenth of a minute.

"Say," he said good naturedly,ao,jz.l

"Say," he said, smiling good naturedly, as a light seemed to break over his face, "I ought to have known better than to monkey with a newspaper man, oughtn't I?"—Detroit Free Press.

When He Awoke.

The house was crowded and the play was good. Everybody was interested except this man in black, who had taken on as many as half a dozen too many. He fell asleep. For a time he slept quietly, then his load shifted, he careened a bit and fell to snoring. His friend tried to awaken him, and then the fun began.

The sleeper, at the first punch delivered by his friend, said:

"Aw right, I hear."

The friend punched him again, and harder.

"I'm gettin' up," said the sleeper, drowsily; "I'm gettin' up now."

Those near by were giggling now.

The friend hi him three hard jolts more.

"Damn it, Maria! if you don't let me sleep I'll——"

The riend hit him three hard jots and he awoke. He rubbed his eyes, and seeing the people laughing realized that he was the cause of the merriment and hastily left.—Memphis Scimitar.

Unhappy Spirit.

"Are you happy over there?" they asked him.

"No," replied the unhappy spirit, through the medium of the medium. "My first name is still Jonadab."

MARRIED AND DIDN'T KNOW IT.

A Joke That Pleased a Man, but Caused Embarrassment.

Philadelphia Record.

Springfield, Mass., June 24.—The orthodox Rabbis of Boston will be called upon to disentangle the web of matrimonial complication which is now troubling the minds of the several hundred Israelites in the city of Springfield.

The parties who are involved in the intricate compact are Miss Rose Myer and Mr. David Freedman. One evening last week they went out driving. On that same evening they were accidentally married. While they were out together Mr. Freedman drove up to the Beth Israel Synagogue, of Springfield. On the sidewalk near this place of worship stood Mr. Greenberg, the official "slaughterer" of the congregation, and Mr. Lourie, a butcher.

TIED THE KNOT BY A TRICK.

In the presence of these men Freedman produced a $5 gold-piece from his pocket, and, after murmuring a few words in Hebrew, he presented the coin to Miss Myer.

These few words and the presentation of the coin (in place of a ring) constituted the religious ceremony which made Mr. Freedman and Miss Myer man and wife. It was a Hebrew marriage. Miss Myer accepted the coin, placed it in her pocketbook and smiled. After this ceremony the couple drove home.

NOT EASY TO UNITE THE BOW.

When told she was truly married, Miss Myer wept and almost went into hysterics. Mr. Freedman, the bridegroom, says that though it was a jest, he meant it in earnest. He wanted to marry the young woman, and thought she would appreciate the joke.

From the religious standpoint the situation is a very delicate one. If Miss Myer insists upon remaining single, at least for the present, she will have to become a divorcee.

But on what grounds? That is one of the questions which the Boston rabbis will be called upon to aid in solving.

THE GOLD DEMOCRATS.

The Bulk of the Vote Will be Cast for Bryan This Year.

Atlanta Journal.

There can be no doubt that the gold Democrats held the balance of power in the campaign of 1896. If they had voted solidly for Bryan he would have been elected. They put out a ticket of their own, and while it received only 130,000 votes, the votes cast for it by no means represented the strength of the bolting Democrats. It is probable that nine-tenths of them voted directly for McKinley.

What the element which decided the result of the election in 1886 will do this year is a very important question.

A "gold Democrat" writing from Grand Rapids, Mich., to the New York Evening Post, says:

"With very few exceptions the rank and file of the gold Democrats hereabouts will vote for Bryan this year, as against McKinley—or even a gold Democrat third candidate. Most of the few gold Democrats who will not vote for Bryan are either tinged with Philippine imperialism or oppose him on other grounds than fear of free silver—chiefly his position in regard to the supreme court. They are as much opposed as ever to 16 to 1 silver, but feel certain that the senate is safely gold standard for at least four years—and reasonably safe for six. And even if compelled to choose between imperialism and free silver—which, thank God, they are not—they would vote for Bryan rather than for McKinley, or a third candidate, votes for whom will be practically for the Canton member of the now defunct firm of Duty and Destiny. I write as a Palmer and Buckner gold Democrat, familiar with the feeling among gold Demoerats hereabouts."

From every quarter come reports similar to the above.

In the South especially there is already evident a determination on the part of nearly all of those Democrats who refused to vote for Bryan in 1896 on accounnt of his currency views to support him this year. Their views on the currency question have not changed, but they regard that as as a side issue in the campaign now opening and on the real and overshadowing issues of imperialism and the trusts Mr. Bryan represents their views. They agree with Carl Schurzth at there are some things worse than free silver.

The bulk of the gold Democratic vote will be cast for Bryan this year

Reports show that over fifteen hundred lives have been saved through the use of One Minute Cough Cure. Most of these were cases of grippe, croup, asthma, whooping cough, bronchitis and pneumonia. Its early use prevents consumption. Howard Gardner. tf.

Unless food is digested quickly it will ferment and irritate the stomach. After each meal take a teaspoonful of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and will allow you to eat all you need of what you like. It never fails to cure the worst cases of dyspepsia. It is pleasant to take. Howard Gardner.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRAH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air, blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardrer, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

CATARRH CAN BE CURED BY

Johnston's Sarsaparilla,

"DANGER IN THE EARTH AND AIR; DANGER EVERYWHERE."

A Wise and Venerable Doctor Talks about Advanced Science.

In a leading hotel, in a great city, a famous and aged physician was conversing. Listening to his wise and sententious discourse, were a group of well dressed men, evidently lawyers, business men and commercial travelers.

My firm belief, is "that medical science is certain yet to show that all diseases without exception are caused by invisible germs which are living organisms. Here is the germ of that terrible disease diphtheria. Here is the bacillus of typhoid fever; and here is the still more dreadful bacillus of tubercle which causes that most destructive of all diseases, consumption. This of that very common and supposed incurable disease, catarrh."

"I wish, Doctor," said the traveling man, "that you would tell us about catarrh. I have had it for years, and I am thoroughly discouraged."

The Doctor answered. "Catarrh, like diphtheria, consumption, typhoid fever, and a host of other diseases, is the result of a microbe invading the blood and attacking specially the mucous membrane. This foul and most disgusting disease is especially prevalent in the United States and it is rare to meet one who is not, or has not been troubled more or less with it. How often is he or she obliged to remain at home from pleasant entertainments, deprive themselves of many intellectual treats, from fear of the disagreeable odor arising from catarrhal affections. In its worst phase, the patient becomes loathsome both to himself and his friends.

"I believe," continued this great physician, "that the true way to heal catarrh is to medicate the blood. This can be done only by powerful alteratives which act as blood purifiers."

Betsy A. Marett, of Manistee, Manistee Co., Mich., writes:

Dear Sirs:—For ten years I was a sufferer from general debility and chronic catarrh. My face was pale as death. I was weak and short of breath. I could hardly walk, I was so dizzy and had a ringing in my head all the time. My hands and feet were always cold. My appetite was very poor. On getting up in the morning, my head swam so I was often obliged to lie down again. I had awful pains in the small of my back. I had a continual feeling of tiredness. My muscular power was almost entirely gone, and I couldn't go half a dozen steps without stopping to rest, and often that much exercise caused me to have a pain in my side. It seemed as though the blood had left my veins. The doctors said my blood had all turned to water. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I tried the best physicians in the state, but failed to get any relief. My husband got me a bottle of Johnston's Sarsaparilla. I took it, and then I bought another. When these had been used, I was somewhat improved in health. I continued its use, and felt I was growing stronger; my sleep was refreshing, and it seemed as if I could feel new blood moving through my veins. I kept on taking it, and now consider myself a well and rugged woman. I work all the time, and am happy. I am positive that the Sarsaparilla saved my life. The sick headaches I have had since childhood, have disappeared, and my catarrh has almost entirely left me. I cannot be too thankful for what Johnston's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I recommend all women who have sick headaches to use your Sarsaparilla.

WHAT IS YOUR GUESS.

How Many Souls, Think You, Are in Greensboro?--Risk Your Judgment.

Mr. H. W. Wharton has been indisposed for two or three days, the effect of a chill.

Try your hand at guessing the census of Greensboro. Somebody will be surprised at what the figures show.

Sheriff Gilmer went to Raleigh this afternoon with Will Dick, colored, sentenced to the penitentiary for murder.

Aid and encourage the missionary workers by attending the lawn party on the First Presbyterian church lawn tonight.

Miss Clara Hamner, of High Point, will entertain at her home tonight in honor of her friends, Misses Mabel Hall and Sallie Turner, of this city.

You will enjoy an hour spent on the lawn of the First Presbyterian church tonight. The Pauline Little Missionary Society will serve delightful refreshments.

Mr. Perkins continues to make improvements on the McAdoo House. The reading room is now being repapered and a new floor laid in the dining room.

The street sweeper recently purchased by the city has arrived and been put to work. It does a good job of sweeping and is a great improvement over the old method.

The Chief of Police today ordered the removal of the vehicles usually kept standing in South Davie street. This was made necessary in order to give room for the operation of the new street sweeper.

Mrs. Rebecca Stewart, the wife of Mr. S. F. Stewart, of Gastonia, was severely injured in an accident a few days ago, having a hip dislocated. She is 68 or 70 years old and it is feared that the accident may prove serious. Mrs. Stewart has relatives here.

Preparations for the Battle Ground celebration are nearly completed. Judge Schenck has been confined to his room for two or three days and is unable to give the arrangements his personal attention. It is hoped that his strength will be sufficient to enable him to attend the celebration.

Mr. L. C. Howlett is adding to his reputation as an artistic decorator, as may be observed by a look at one of Merritt, Brower & Co's. windows. Summer hats, shirts, ties, umbrellas, etc., are so arranged as to give a most pleasing effect. The window is really beautiful, the style of the decorating being new and unique. Mr. Howlett probably got the idea on his recent visit to Philadelphia.

The Eagle Junior Reel Team has won the junior championship for two years and expects to win it at Wilmington. In order to raise the necessary funds to defray the expenses of the boys to the tournament, a lawn party will be given Thursday night on the corner of Church street and Summit avenue. Elegant refreshments will be served and the Gate City Band will furnish music. Go out and encourage the youthful firemen.

Messrs. Sturgis Bring Their Families to Greensboro.

The families of Messrs. L. H. and L. M. Sturgis, of the real estate firm of L. H. Sturgis & Co., have moved to Greensboro. The Messrs. Sturgis themselves—father and son—have been in Greensboro about three months. They are from Baltimore. Their families arrived Sunday. They are keeping house at 834 West Market Street. Greensboro welcomes them as dwellers in the Gate City.
